Re: Video Device Competition, MB Docket No. 10-91; Commercial Availability of Navigation Devices, CS Docket No. 97-80; Compatibility Between Cable Systems and Consumer Electronics Equipment, PP Docket No. 00-67

Dear Ms. Dortch:

On April 13, 2011, in connection with the above-referenced proceedings, Jason Friedrich with Motorola Mobility, Inc. ("Motorola") and the undersigned of Wiley Rein LLP, counsel to the company, met with David Grimaldi, Chief of Staff and Media Legal Advisor to Commissioner Mignon Clyburn.

During this meeting, we discussed the continued innovation in the video device marketplace, including the next generation of tablets such as the Motorola Xoom™, home networking solutions, and video services that allow consumers to access content from a variety of sources and view that content on an array of devices. We also discussed how AllVid mandates would likely harm consumers, including those in low-income households. Finally, we discussed how government-imposed technical mandates would hamper innovation, discourage investment, and repeat the mistakes of the CableCARD regime.

Pursuant to 47 C.F.R. § 1.1206, please include this ex parte filing in the above-referenced dockets.

Sincerely yours,

Bennett L. Ross
